GLASSER BRAIDED CARBON FIBER BOWS

These superlative models represent the latest in bow technology! Unlike standard composite bows, which are hollow, these bows have a solid core to give them a supplementary even feel and balance. The carbon fibers used to make this bow are woven into a continuous pattern. This creates a seamless bow that carries its fiber patterns down its entire length just as the grain of a wood bow is carried down its entire length.

Glasser uses a natural finish, rather than paint, to showcase the aesthetic beauty of this bow's interwoven design. The bows feature deluxe ebony Paulus frogs made in Germany. The frogs are nickel, silver and gold-mounted and have the highest quality goldfish abalone pearl slide and large eye. Please look at this bow carefully! Note the new finish, the finely shaped head, the German silver tip, the German ebony frog, the strength and the balance. These patented braided carbon fiber bows are the ideal choice for expert players!

DÜRRSCHMIDT BOWS

Otto Dürrschmidt founded his bowmaking workshop in Markneukirchen, Germany in 1894. The fine quality craftsmanship continued throughout the next century as their bows earned favor and acclaim with musicians internationally. Fourth generation master bowmaker Uwe Dürrschmidt learned the craft in the late 1970s from his father, Wolfgang, and grandfather Kurt Dürrschmidt, and since 1995 has been at the helm. Today, Uwe is assisted by his daughter Cindy, now the 5th generation of Dürrschmidt bowmakers, in continuing the fine traditions and techniques of their family.

Knoll Bows was founded in 1932 by Alfred Knoll (1909 - 1980). His son Hartmut Knoll (born in 1937), took over the firm in 1977. Alfred's grand-son Gerald Knoll (born in 1968) took over the workshop in 2003. The company has now spanned three generations of the Knoll family as they continue the fine tradition of bowmaking in Regnitzlosau, Germany. A careful selection of woods, which have been stored for many years, as well as precise craftsmanship, exclusively performed by well trained specialists, are the most important foundations of Knoll's work.

GERALD KNOLL ARTIST BOWS

Gerald Knoll is regarded as one of the finest bowmakers in Germany today. Having grown up in the "business" (son of Hartmut Knoll, grand-son of Alfred Knoll) he studied both violin making & bowmaking, taking diplomas in both areas. His primary love is bowmaking, so he also did an apprenticeship with Hans Karl Schmidt in Dresden, regarded by many as the finest bowmaker in Germany. Knoll's work is winning many awards, & we are very proud to be his distributor here in the U.S.

KUHNLA BOWS

Steffen Kuhnla, b. 1961, studied under R. Messing, C.O. Dürrschmidt, and R.H. Leicht before receiving his Master diploma in 1988, and opening his own shop in 1989. He is an awarded maker and current member of the Verband Deutscher Geigenbauer, a registered association of German violin and bow makers, founded in Frankfurt, in 1904 to help their industry gain a seal of approval, and guard against the dilution of fine German craftsmanship amongst the flood of 20th C. violin manufacturing. Steffen is based in Bad Brambach, Germany, and is also a member of the Violin Society of America.

These are fine bows, precise in craftsmanship, and beautiful in finishing work. All of their frogs are branded with the Steffen Kuhnla insignia and are currently available in four models.

MÖNNIG PERNAMBUCO BOWS - MADE IN GERMANY

Adding to Howard Core Company's European bow lineup, we are proud to now offer Bogenbaumeister Michael Mönnig's work. Master Mönnig's family can be traced back at least six generations in Saxony's "Vogtland." After observing the art of fine bowmaking in his grandfather's shop, Michael in turn studied with, and subsequently worked alongside Gunter Paulus from 1975 until 1982, when he received his Master Diploma.

In 1989 Michael received from the Council of Ministers of the German Democratic Republic, a certificate titling him "Anerkannter Kunsthandwerker" (Acknowledged Artcraftsman). Today, he and his son Thomas continue making fine bows in the old world Family tradition.

These bows, made from well-aged Pernambuco, are designed to deliver the best performance with optimal balance, weight, and resiliency in mind. The clean lines, hand burnishing, and precise finishing work are immediately noticeable. They are currently available for Violin, Viola, Cello, and Bass, in several levels. All pernambuco is registered and can be traded worldwide under CITES.

BOW CASES - BLACK VINYL EXTERIOR

Bobelock bow cases fit violin, viola, cello and bass bows comfortably. Bass bow cases are lined with wine or blue velour (green available in single violin size) and surrounded by a sturdy plywood shell. The covering on our bow cases is a tough pebble-grain vinyl that lasts for years. The violin/viola/cello bow cases easily fit all three sizes of bow and are designed to keep them from sliding around inside; very important for those delicate tips! Sturdy clasps keep the case closed even if dropped.

Interior Colors - Velour/Velvet*: blue, wine, green. (Green interior available single bow case only.)

* Single bow case has velvet interior; all others are velour interior.
